2014 STATE SINGLES CHAMPIONS

Commentary: Jerry Clark

September is here, and our evenings are getting shorter, and cooler. We can hope for an Indian Summer, but in our hearts, we know that Autumn is lurking right around the corner, and in mere days, those big yellow school buses will be roaming our neighborhood streets.

Most of what has been written in Shoes News this year, has been for everybody in our organization, but not this time. This time, I'm talking mostly to our young Junior and Cadet pitchers. Oh, how I wish I had learned how to pitch horseshoes at your age. I knew almost nothing about horseshoe pitching until I was 58 years old. You've probably heard the old saying, "It's hard to teach an old dog new tricks," well that saying is usually true. Without an experienced pitcher showing me how to play the game, I plugged away and taught myself the best I could. I didn't know how to grip the horseshoe, and I didn't even know the difference between a flip shoe and a turn shoe. Another thing I didn't know was how hard or how high to pitch my shoe, but I kept reading and learning and worked hard at it in practice. When you practice on your own, there is a tendency to get going way too fast, and get very sloppy in your approach. You usually

Every Tournament Starts with...

"I pledge allegiance to the flag, of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Here we go !! Another state tournament is upon us. I hope everyone has been practicing. I have our classes ready to go and like the years before, the numbers have dropped.

Congratulations to our new state double champions. It was fun to watch it come down to a playoff. Nice job, Glen and Gene. Thank you to the Bellingham club for all the help and a great place to play !

I have missed out on some good tournaments around our state while I was getting ready for worlds. Sorry I missed you all.

Worlds is in the books and we were not as good as we had hoped. But, we had fun. Our pitchers played their hearts out, but finished lower than we were hoping for. There is always next year ! I am proud of you all. It was quite a place to visit. Thank you to Phyllis and Jim Quist. They did a great presentation to try bring the world tournament to Spokane, but we came up short. Things may change and we will try it again.

On the health front, I am scheduled for an extensive surgery on Sept 3rd. I will be out of commission for about 6 weeks or so. Thank you for your continued support and prayers.

See you guys on the courts!

State Pitching Great Shares Some Thoughts

Hi Jerry, Herb Criss stopped by the other day, and after he left I made these notes about what he had to say about horseshoes, etc. I think quite a few SN readers would be interested.
Carol Sperber

I miss horseshoes more than I miss golf. I can't pitch the distance and don't have the stamina. I go for a walk every morning - that keeps me going. I'm glad to see Bob Pederson back pitching. My wife, Audrey, is very weak physically; needs help walking and getting in and out of bed.

Editor: Thanks Carol

Thoughts and Prayers

Barry Chapelle Will Have Surgeries Soon

After the OHPA State tournament and the Pacific N.W, Barry Chapelle will begin with the surgeries to repair his hips and knees. We will be keeping you in our thoughts and prayers as you rehabilitate over the winter months, Barry. Best wishes to you and Barb!

TO THE WORLD AND BACK

You'd think after 25 years Jim & I would get tired of going to World Tournaments. But you know what? Every year is a new experience. It is so great to connect with folks we've met through the years and also meet new folks. And I've found that many of you have also made friends in the past across the country as I have several hugs to deliver. I love my job!!

Eight from Washington competed this year in Hamburg, NY. We may have been small in numbers but quality won out as half of our group came home with trophies.

We all found that finding our way around Buffalo was a bit of a challenge. It took Jim & I four days to finally find our way home at night to where we were staying and we even had a GPS! And Russ arrived without his luggage which contained everything - clothes, horseshoes, directions, GPS, etc. Thankfully the next day he was again reunited with his things.

The live web cams were quite awesome. I even had a call from Spokane from Jeanette McCarthy one eve saying "I see you taking pictures of the Jr's."

The Spokane Sports Commission group did a great job in promoting our area for the 2016 Tournament. On the 2nd vote - Alabama won out. Of course we were all disappointed, but we had great support from many states. Time will tell what the next step will be.

Topeka, Kansas is promising a good venue next year and we have a great group of NHPA officers who do their best to make each tournament a memorable experience for all. Start making plans now to attend. It all adds up to great memories and lasting friendships.

An elderly woman is being examined by a young physician. After about four minutes in the examination room, she bursts out of the door. Spotting an older doctor, she tells him what happened. Astounded, he marches down the hallway toward his young colleague. "What's the matter with you?" he demands. That woman is 74! Why would you tell her she's pregnant?" The young doc asks, "Well, does she still have the hiccups?"

grab your shoes and wing them down to the opposite stake, then walk down and repeat the process, often times going faster and faster without even realizing it. The object in practicing is not just to develop habits, but to develop good habits. To be a real good pitcher, you need to practice good habits and then work on them over, and over, and over again until they can be repeated, instinctively, under pressure. The way you pitch in a tournament is almost always just the result of how you prepared yourself in practice. You should practice exactly the way you intend to play in a tournament situation. Total concentration, not too fast, not too slow. Find your perfect rhythm, routine, and speed, and then maintain it.

You boys will be changing your pitching distances over the next few years, and as your bodies change, and you get bigger, taller, and stronger, you will probably have to make some adjustments. That's ok, you are at an age where you may want to experiment with the various types of turn shoes and see which one feels natural and easier to control. My advice to you, is to watch some of the adult pitchers. If you like the way a certain adult pitcher throws his/her shoe, don't be shy, walk up and ask them how they do it. Trust me, most of the adults would be honored that you asked them, and be glad to show you how. One of the great things about being older and experienced is to be able to pass along some of what we've learned to a youngster who is developing his/her own style of pitching. You boys and girls have a lot of years to experiment and try different things in order to become the very best pitcher you are capable of becoming. Because you have learned the basics of pitching at an early age, you have something very valuable on your side...time.

The WSHPA is very proud of all you've accomplished to this point in your lives, and we hope you will keep learning, progressing, and most of all, love playing the game well into your adult years. I have one last old saying, here it is. Practice does not make perfect, perfect practice makes perfect. There you go, that's my pitch to you!

- Skagit Valley Herald reporter Vince Richardson, recently visited the Burlington Club, and is planning on doing a nice article about horseshoe pitching. It is scheduled to be in the Sunday, August 24th paper. You can Google it, or go to www.goskagit.com.

 My pregnant daughter and her husband were checking out a new birth facility that was more like a spa. The birthing room had a hot tub, soft music, and candlelight. "What do you think?", she asked. He looked around, "Isn't this how we got here in the first place?"

Plan to attend our annual Saturday evening banquet (and brief business meeting) at our host hotel. The gathering starts at 6 PM . The food will be served at 7 PM. Bring your door prizes, and enjoy an evening of good food, and fun with your friends. Approximate cost for the banquet is $17 to $18 which includes the tip. Let Phyl know when you register if you (and how many guests) will be attending the banquet. Our host hotel is the Yakima Valley Hotel and Conference Center, (formerly the Clarion) 1507 N. 1st St. (509) 248-7850

We have special room rates at $65. You must mention horseshoes when you register. The hotel now has a free breakfast buffet for its guests, and an evening buffet as well. On Saturday evening however, we hope you'll attend the banquet.
